INTRODUCTION TO VOLUME 8

File No. 8.010001 | 2019-08-09 | 2022-02-18

Quick Summary: This Volume contains tools and presentations related to articles in this collection.

Abstract:

The articles in this collection are written in plain text with bulleted lists and tables to allow them to be read and imported into most applications. Much of the material discussed in some articles could benefit from using different formats such as Microsoft Excel™, PowerPoint™, and PDF formats. Volume 8 contains tools, presentations, and related material in their native file format. Site-registered users download these items if and when desired.

This Volume contains a collection of Excel™ tools, PowerPoint™ presentations, and text descriptions and presentation scripts of the material discussed in the articles in this site. Some of the material was created several years ago while other material is a result of some of the articles recently written.

This Volume is divided into chapters as follows:

Chapter	Title	Description
8.01	Volume 8 Contents	Summary articles of the material included or planned to be included in this Volume.
8.02	Tools and Examples	Tools and techniques used to assess various factors associated with companies, markets, and risks.
8.03	One Page Summaries	These one-pagers are intended to be brief summaries of key topics covered in articles and presentations.
8.04	Presentations	PowerPoint™ presentations accompanied with separate slide notes files on a wide variety of subjects.

A listing of the available Tools and Examples, One Page Summaries, and Presentations are included in the first article of each chapter.

Several other presentations and tools will be added to the site. Some of these items need updating, while others need to be created. Article, 8.010004, lists the planned presentations and tools.
